++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Frequent snow and hail showers, strong winds and bitterly cold.

Today:
There will be frequent showers of snow and hail through the day. Bitterly cold with strong to gale force northwesterly winds, perhaps severe gale over Buchan. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Tonight:
Further snow showers are expected this evening and tonight, and these will more readily settle on roads after dark. Fresh to strong northwesterly winds in east, easing in shelter inland. Minimum temperature -5 deg C (23 deg F).

Tuesday:
Another very cold day with snow showers, these heavy in the morning with some tricky early driving conditions, but melting on roads in strengthening sunshine. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Sunny spells and isolated wintry showers Wednesday. Occasional rain and milder on Thursday, turning showery later. Then colder again on Friday with showers turning to snow.
